Her Money Was Gone!

An old woman who lived alone had kept nearly $2,000 00 in currency around her house for years. She was afraid of banks.

Last fall she became seriously ill, and——

No, she didn't die. But when she went to look for the cash it was gone! Fortunately some honest friends had found it while she was unconscious and had deposited it to her credit in a bank.

This woman has now decided that after all the bank is the safest place, and, besides, her money is not idle any longer. It is now earning 4 per cent for its owner.

Let us put your money to work for you.

THE GREATEST FARMER IN THE WORLD

One-fourth of the wheat we grow is the result of the researches of the Government. After years of untiring experiment and investigation, the Government, through the Department of Agriculture, was enabled to introduce into this country the remarkable Durum wheat through which our production has been increased fully twenty-five per cent. This has been only one of many surprising but little-known accomplishments of the Government, which are covered in the interesting series of stories for which we have the exclusive right of distribution in this community.

We'll send this literature to you each month without obligation on your part if you will ask for it.

Center of Virginia is in Appomattox

Washington, July 31 —The geographical center of Virginia is located eleven miles east southeast of Amherst, in Appomattox county, the United States geological survey finds, following its survey to determine the center of refinement of the world.

Washington, the center of governmental activity in the United States, is more than 1,000 miles from the geographical center of the United States. The location of the national capital has given rise to considerable agitation for its removal to a more central geographical location. St. Louis, Denver, and other places in the middle west have been suggested as a preferential spot

The position of the geographical center of the United States has been determined by the United States coast and geodetic survey and falls in Smith county, in northern Kansas, in latitude 89 degress 35 minutes.

A few years ago a prominent daily paper published an illustration of a windmill which, it was said, was at the exact center of the United States, but it is not possible so fix so definite a location from any data now available. All such estimates are approximate only; when newer and better maps are available closer estimates of the centers may be made.

TWO NEW SECURITIES ISSUED NEXT YEAR BY U. S. TREASURY

Will Complete Line of Government Savings Securities and Place Savings Movement on Peace Basis.

Completing the line of government savings securities and placing the treasury savings movement on a solid peace-time basis, two new treasury savings securities will be issued during the coming year, says a recent announcement from Secretary Houston. The new issues will be a $1 Treasury Savings Stamp and a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate. The $1 stamp, which will be non-interest bearing, is to be bright red in color and to bear the portrait of Alexander Hamilton first Secretary of the Treasury. The $25 certificate will be similar in design and terms to the $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificates which will also be offered in 1921, to mature January 1, 1926.

The new securities will supply a $1 unit for saving, and a registered government security in the $25 denomination which can be conveniently purchased through the accumulation of the $1 stamps. The small denomination war-time securities—the $5 War Savings Stamp, in a 1921 series, and the 25 cent Thrift Stamp—will also be offered during the coming year, as will the registered Treasury Savings Certificates in $100 and $1,000 denominations.

Demand Continues Strong.

Notwithstanding the reaction since the armistice from habits of saving, Secretary Houston said that the demand for savings securities has continued strong in many parts of the country, and that he believed that as the security markets become more settled treasury savings securities bearing interest at 4 per cent. compounded quarterly, exempt from state and local taxes and from the normal federal income tax, and redeemable substantially on demand, should prove increasingly attractive, particularly to the multitude of small investors.

With these considerations in mind, the Treasury is committed to the continued sale of government savings securities, and feels that as time goes on sales of savings securities over the counter, at post offices and banks throughout the country, should play an increasingly important part in the current financing of the government.

To this end, the Treasury is also committed to the continuance of the work of the Savings Division, in Washington and in the several federal reserve districts. This organization endeavors to promote the purchase of government savings securities; it develops and protects the secondary market for Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes and other war issues of government securities. It also unites the efforts of all helpful agencies and movements, financial, industrial, educational, commercial and social, in a broad savings campaign to make permanent the habits of saving and investment in United States Government securities. Its work along these lines will be intensified in 1921, the savings organization for this district, with headquarters in Richmond, Va., directing activities in Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina.

Organizations Co-operating.

Requests that the savings work be continued and offers of active co-operation in the movement have been received from national organizations including the American Federation of Labor, nearly every fraternal organization of prominence in the United States, and presidents of women's organizations. The work of the Savings Division has also been splendidly successful in the schools.

In response to the demand, the Savings Division will intensify during 1921 its campaign to spread broadcast the essential facts relative to wise saving and spending and investment, and the continued development of new capital. The savings securities to be offered have also been shaped to meet these needs. The $1 Treasury Savings Stamp and the $25 Treasury Savings Certificate come as a result of work carried on in the great industrial plants of the country. This campaign demonstrated that workers like a $1 unit for saving and that they are seeking an investment security of the $25 denomination. The 25 cent Thrift Stamp and the $5 War Savings Stamp, which have gained a strong foothold in the schools of the nation, will be continued during 1921 in order that every American youth may have the opportunity to become an active partner in the business of his government.

The 1921 War Savings Stamp of $5 maturity value will be larger in size than the 1920 issue, will be orange in color, and will bear the portrait of Lincoln. The 25 cent Thrift Stamp will be unchanged.

Ask your employer or banker to sell you Liberty Bonds on instalments, and take advantage of the opportunity presented by present market prices. Or save up until you have enough to buy a $50 bond. War Savings Stamps will help you save.

You can't lose the handsome profits due you if you buy Liberty Bonds at present market prices and keep them until maturity. The wealth and credit of the nation are pledged to their redemption at par.

Birthday Cake Candles.

The custom of placing candles on a birthday cake—one for each year—comes from Germany. The Germans placed a thick one in the center, called Lebens-licht, the light of life. Only he or she who declares his or her birthday may put out the light of life; it is unlucky if done by any other member of the family. The lights are symbols of life and its portions the years. For persons advanced in years one candle must do duty, as otherwise too many would be required.

English "Boxing Day."

Boxing day is the 26th of December, and is one of the four legal bank holidays in England. It was on this day that in olden times the gentry made presents, especially of money, to their servants and dependents. These presents came to be known as Christmas boxes.

Worth Knowing.

It is said that marks on a polished or varnished surface may be removed by first rubbing them with a cut lemon and then with a cloth dipped in water.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset. I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it. . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying All druggists sell it.
